

FUTURE LUXURY

TOYOTA FLV

Luxury sedans and multipurpose vehicles dominate the automotive world in the '90s, meeting consumer demands for luxury and comfort on the one hand and more affluent, more active lifestyles on the other. Toyota expects these trends to become even stronger in the future, and has developed a vehicle that satisfies both demands. It's called the Toyota FLV and it seats five passengers in comfort, surrounded by an atmosphere of luxury. "Practical luxury" are the watchwords of Toyota's vision for the trendsetting vehicle of tomorrow.

More than just a luxury car

Everything about the Toyota FLV says "Here's a new level of comfort." The oval silhouette creates a sporty, elegant form that's a treat to the eyes. The natural, spacious, passenger compartment is people-friendly, featuring unparalleled quality of materials, and optimum convenience. Our next-generation luxury vehicle is a pleasure to look at, to ride in, or to drive.

A new silhouette born of a new concept
The relaxed interior space is surrounded by a monoform oval silhouette. The teardrop-shaped side windows add a distinctive touch that's both sporty and elegant. The wide, long passenger compartment offers utility and practicality unprecedented in a luxury sedan.

Ample space allows passengers to sit naturally

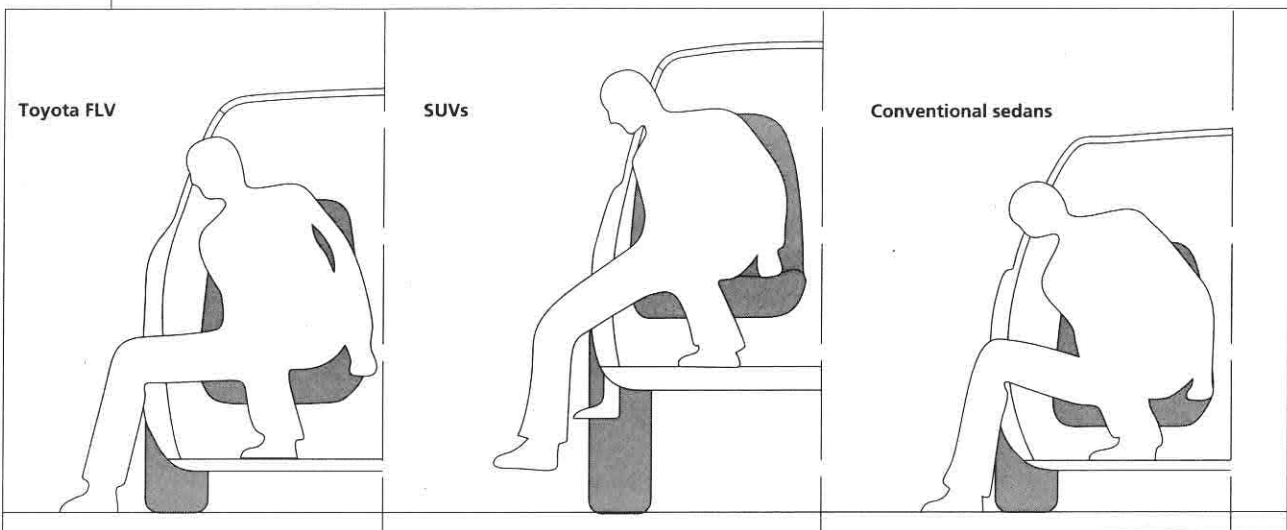

Tipping the rear seat back down offers a big, flat space for carrying extra large items.

An interior created for quality and comfort

The interior makes people the top priority, assuring a relaxing, comfortable cabin with ample legroom, knee clearance, and headroom. A low center of gravity, a wide instrument panel, a large, slanted center console, a deep, wide cowl, and big windows combine to create an expansive, relaxed space.

Ease of entry and exit, and seating comfort

We used experiments with mock-ups and the most advanced ergonomics techniques to set the seat heights at the optimum points from the ground and from the floor. Seating comfort and ease of entry and exit are far superior to conventional sedans and SUVs.

High-quality interior

The bright well-coordinated colors and luxurious upholstery and trim materials bring out a sense of refinement and quality.

Expansive luggage compartment

The new design offers ample luggage space for active lifestyles. A wide-opening rear door and fold-down rear seats open up a huge cargo area.

Multi-display

A multi-display in the center cluster concentrates navigational data, VICS and other traffic information guides, electronic mail received via cellular phone, audiovisual entertainment, and air conditioning controls. It is a newly developed device with superb functionality, that's also designed for easy operation.

Performance worthy of a luxury car

With a 3.0-liter V6 engine and 4-wheel independent suspension, the FLV offers the effortless performance and flat, high-quality ride you'd expect from a luxury sedan.
